“One of the most significant benefits of being a SAEFA member is their comprehensive support regarding labour relations. From short-time applications to retrenchments, they offer invaluable assistance and guidance. Gordon Angus and the team are always ready to listen and advise”.

At MSP Mine Support Products (Pty) Ltd, we specialise in manufacturing steel support products tailored for underground mining conditions and methods. Our extensive range enhances underground support systems and safety measures. Joining SAEFA motivated by their alignment with our company's beliefs, particularly their realistic approach to wages and their vision for the metal industries. Since becoming a member, our experience has been very positive.

One of the most significant benefits of being a SAEFA member is their comprehensive support regarding labour relations. From short-time applications to retrenchments, they offer invaluable assistance and guidance. Gordon Angus and the team are always ready to listen and advise.

SAEFA has been very supportive during challenging times, such as COVID-19, legislative changes, and industrial actions. Their sessions with partners provide updated information on industry trends, regulations, and best practices, keeping us informed about changes in legislation and developments impacting the metal industry and the main agreement.

As members for over 10 years, SAEFA's support has helped us navigate uncertain times optimally, ensuring the safety and protection of our employees. Their informed staff and willingness to assist have been crucial in guiding our business.

Networking with other SAEFA members has also been beneficial, helping us form valuable connections and partnerships.

SAEFA's efforts to advance the interests and rights of employers have significantly contributed to our company's operations.

What sets SAEFA apart is their dedication to operating on values and moral grounds, striving to do what is right for both employers and employees. They work towards levelling the bargaining field, encouraging businesses to grow and become more competitive globally. SAEFA is always willing to engage with trade unions, government departments, and other employers' organizations to improve our industry within their strong moral framework. We highly recommend SAEFA to any company considering membership. Their commitment to advancing the industry and supporting their members makes them an invaluable partner.
